Customer Profile:

Formerly known as findmysuper.com.au - Australian Super Profiles is a financial services portal that allows consumers to track down cash reserved in previous super accounts. Nearly 350,000 members have been recruited and this volume is expected to double by 2012 as legislation comes into effect that allows the government to absorb any outstanding amounts.

These members are from younger, wealthier families who are relatively credit hungry whilst having a low credit risk. Their household income is well above average and they have savings and investments.
